MRS. GEO. P. BRIGHT DIES ON MONDAY

END COMES PEACEFULLY TO BE-LOVED WOMAN AFTER YEARS OF SUFFERING.

Mrs. George P. Bright is dead. This was the sad intelligence that went from lip to lip Monday, for just as the noonday sun sent forth its most radiant light, the sweet Christian spirit of this dutiful wife and mother passed to a higher world that is brighter than the sun which shone on the meek sufferer in the last hours of earthly life.

Mrs. Bright was 63 years of age and for 40 of these years, she had blessed, as only a Christian wife could do, the husband who is now crushed by the weight of sorrow. To them were born four children, three of whom survive. They are Greenberry Bright, and Mrs. Susan Yeager, of this city, and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and they with many relatives were gathered at the bedside and witnessed the peaceful passing away of this good woman.

Many years ago the deceased suffered a fall from which she never fully recovered, and this, aggravated by rheumatism, caused her to become an invalid. Her sufferings had been intense, yet with calm and Christian fortitude she bore her pain with the benign and unflinching confidence that in the end all would be well. Ever bright and cheerful, ever thoughtful of her friends, her life though often dark to her, was always a source of joy and comfort to those who surrounded her. In this sad hour every heart beats in sympathy with the husband who was ever kind and patient, thoughtful and true.

A life that was long and useful, filled with Christian virtues and worthy of emulation, has come to a peaceful close. Let not her loved ones weep, for the reward of those who live in God's grace is rich and everlasting—and truly this is hers. After a short service at the home on Lancaster street at 3 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. J. Hickey, of the Methodist church, the remains will be tenderly consigned to mother earth in the cemetery, there to await the judgment morn.

Respected Citizen Gone

HENRY BLANKENSHIP PASSES
AWAY AT PREACHERSVILLE

Henry Blankenship one of the best known and one of the best respected citizens of the Preachersville section of the county, passed away at his home there Monday. Aged 78 years. He was born and reared in Lincoln county and had spent his long and useful life in its borders. He was a faithful and consistent member of the Baptist church and departed for the brighter shore with the exhortation "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Mr. Blankenship lost his wife a few years ago, but he survived by children, who are Mrs. James Hark, Mrs. J. W. Lunsford, Mrs. Jack Kirby, Mrs. Nancy Morgan, James, John, Joe and Miss Kitty Blankenship who with a wide circle of friends and loved ones have the sympathy of the entire community in their loss.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed for the funeral at the time the I. J. went to press, but it will probably be held Tuesday afternoon, with interment in the family burying ground at Preachersville.

Dead in Field

AGED CASEY COUNTY WOMAN
FOUND NEAR JUNCTION CITY

The body of Mrs. Elizabeth Pemberton, of Casey county, was Monday found in a field two miles south of Junction City. She was 79 years old. No marks of violence was observed on the body, but her hair and shoes could not be located.

Last Friday while returning from a visit to Bedford, Ind., she got off the train at Junction City by mistake and being unable to find a conveyance started to walk to Moreland four miles away, where members of her family came to meet her. Upon her failure to arrive and the information she had gotten off at Junction City, a search was then instituted for her. It is thought that she had been dead since Friday night. A coroner's inquest will be held.

Enjoyable Afternoon

AT FACULTY RECITAL OF STAN-FORD PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The monthly recital given by the faculty of the Stanford Graded and High School was one of the most attractive events had in years by local talent. The fair sized audience was greatly pleased at the rapid attention showed.

Miss Ellen Hallon in the voice from Chopin and Klipschle from Liszt displayed her usual skill as a pianist and her many friends were gratified to hear her again. She is always good. Sept. 1, W. Ireland supplied for Miss Feltner who was suffering from a severe cold. He gave two numbers, "Sing Me to Sleep," accompanied by violin and piano and "Asleep in the Deep," and as usual delighted everyone with his splendid bass.

Miss Bertha Jackson the head of the department of expression and physical culture pleased the audience with two most satisfactory numbers, "A set of Turquois," from Aldrich, "A trying Situation," from Mark Twain in these selections her versatility powers of expression were evidenced in the interpretation and skill with which she gave them. Her vocal power and dramatic expression displayed itself in a superb manner and she captivated the audience.

Miss Hattie Jean Penny showed marked ability in her violin productions. The skill with which she played the sextette from Lucia evidenced her training but in the Ninth Concerto of Bellini she displayed with wonderful power her mastery of the violin. The different movements Allegro, Moderato, Andante and Fando, were brought out with much force and power. The remarkable sweetness of the tone thrilled those who were fortunate enough to hear her.

This recital will doubtless stimulate a patronage of these departments by many who have heretofore overlooked the fact that such superb advantages were afforded in our own Stanford Graded and High School.

Some Bird This

ANCIENT PEAFOWL NEAR GLAS-
GOW OVER 100 YEARS OLD.

(Glasgow Times.)

A good many years ago the Times wrote up an account of an ancient peafowl when living on the property of Mr. Tom Lambert, of near Peafowl school house on the road between Sulphur Well and Center. On a visit just concluded to Metcalf county, inquiry was made as to this famous bird and the surprising reply was made that it is still living. By the very best of authority, this peafowl is considerably over one hundred years old. In 1810 Mr. Horatio Thompson came from Virginia and settled in what is now Metcalf county. On the place originally known as the Horatio Thompson farm, afterwards as the Clark homestead, and now as the George Price residence, being the home occupied by Judge George R. Price at his tragic death a few years ago. In 1826 Mr. T. T. Shuffett told a small boy, was promised a pair of peafowls by Mr. Thompson, and when he went after them, was told by Mr. Thompson that the male of the pair given him had been brought from Virginia by him in 1810. It was then a mature bird, some years between five and ten years old. Mr. Shuffett kept the peafowl as long as he lived and at his death it passed into the hands of Mr. Tom Lambert, a son-in-law of Mr. Shuffett, who has owned him ever since. During this period he has remained in the same family. And there is not the slightest doubt as to his identity. For 75 years this peafowl roosted on the same limb of a large oak tree until the tree was finally cut down. He is said to be somewhat shrunken in size and his feet a little affected by the frost and freeze of over 100 years of his life, but outside of this, is just as active and as full of life as ever.

Locally the great old bird is famous and known all over the country, and Peafowl School in Metcalf county, within a few hundred yards of which he makes his home—is named after him.

There is no doubt whatever that this bird is from 105 to 120 years old and that he has brought from Virginia in 1810. Tradition says that peafowls do not frequently live to a much greater age than this but this is the only substantiated instance coming under the Times' observation. May he live long and prosper and his age increase.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of evening stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by Penney's Drug Store.

GOES TO LAW FOR EXTRA PAY

CONTRACTOR KRUEGER SUES
FOR $4,787 AND CITIZENS
SUE TO FIGHT HIS CLAIM.

Suit for $4,787.75, the amount when Contractor F. Krueger claims is still due him for work on Lincoln county's new court house was filed on his behalf by Attorneys George H. Florence of this city and T. C. Williams, of Mt. Vernon, in the office of Circuit Clerk J. D. Swain last week. This is the amount which was awarded Contractor Krueger by the Arbitrators, Leoney and Elder, when his claim for excess of about $5,000 over the contract price was filed with the Fiscal Court. The court, however, refused to accept this agreement of the Arbitrators, and the suit is the result. The amount claimed by the contractors is for "extras" on the court house, such as concrete floor in the basement and other details ordered out side of the specifications included in the original contract.

A companion suit for this was filed here by E. F. Woods and G. W. Carter as taxpayers of Lincoln county, seeking an injunction to prevent the payment of this sum by the court. Attorneys, P. M. McElberts, Robert Harding and Robert Puryear represent these taxpayers.

There are but two of the many suits which have been filed for trial in the November term of the Lincoln circuit court. All together there are 36 equity and common law appearances to come up at the next term, which will be called by Judge Walger, Monday, November 21st. Judge Walger is in Winchester this week holding a special term of court.

There are 25 indictments brought in by the last grand jury for trial at the coming term of court, also.

Bright Ferrell

PASSES AWAY AT ROWLAND AF-TER SHORT ILLNESS

Bright Ferrell one of the best known government storekeepers and rangers in the Eighth district died at his home in Rowland Sunday morning at 5 o'clock. He had been confined to his bed for only about a week, but had been in failing health for some time and his death hardly came as a surprise to his many friends and loved ones, though a great shock to them.

Mr. Ferrell was fifty years of age, and is survived by his wife and several children. He had been in the government service in this district for many years, and accounted one of the most efficient men on the list. His passing away will be sincerely and deeply mourned by a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Ferrell was laid to rest in the little cemetery at Waynesburg, where a number of his children are buried. After short services at the grave, on Tuesday. He was a member of the Order of Maccabees, in which he carried a comfortable amount of insurance.

Group is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by Penney's Drug Store.

Blue Corn

SAM DUDDERAR PERFECTS A
NEW VARIETY OF SEED SELECTION.

W. A. Dudderar brought to town Saturday a wagon load of blue corn, and of it, that much a lesson in town, had, before that it was the first of its kind that they had ever seen. Mr. Dudderar said that he had secured the seed for this from Sam Dudderar, who had finally brought out the entire blue corn by careful seed selection, this proving again the contention of the advocates of selection the corn growing that seed selection will prove the more important factor in the production of corn.

Mr. Dudderar had noticed that in many ears of ordinary yellow or white corn, one or two grains would be found of a bluish color. He carefully picked these out, and for the past eight years has been planting them and securing more blue grains every year. Each time he would plant the blue grains again, until he has at last been able to produce an entire field of the blue corn, with most of the ears showing not a white grain on them. They have proved very good producers, Mr. Dudderar securing a barrel of corn to the shock from the new variety.

Just what the advantage is producing this blue variety except as a curiosity and example of what can be done by careful seed selection, is not known, but a thorough test will be made of the meal and other qualities of the new colored crop. Mr. Dudderar held a good sized ear of the peculiar colored corn at the I. J. office on exhibition.

CASWELL SAUFLEY TO WED MISS O'REAR

STANFORD BOY WINS PRETTIEST
GIRL AT THE STATE CAPITAL.

The Courier-Journal in its Frankfort letter continued this announcement, which will be of much interest here, for the prospective groom is a son of Mrs. Sallie R. Saufley, of this city. His bride to be is considered the prettiest and most attractive girl at the Capital City. She is a daughter of Judge H. C. O'Rear of the Court of Appeals. The dispatch from Frankfort said:

At a beautiful luncheon yesterday afternoon given at her country home, "Glenn-Ayr," Miss Helen O'Rear announced her engagement to Ensign Richard Caswell Saufley, U. S. N. At the same time that Miss O'Rear told her happy secret to intimate friends Ensign Saufley gave dinner on board his battleship the Kansas, to his brother officers, and told them of his approaching marriage to the young Kentucky beauty.

The dining room and table decorations were in white chrysanthemums and from this radiated white satin ribbons to each guest's plate with the place cards attached. The cards told the story; it wasn't necessary to speak the happy news. A small picture of the bride-to-be was in the upper left hand corner and love knots and clouds pointed to the name "Ensign Caswell Saufley" in the other corner. The fees carried out the announcement idea and were unusually attractive, being candles and candlesticks, which were brought in lighted, and before blowing them out the guests made a wish for the happiness of the prospective bride and groom.

The guests were Misses Margaret McChord and Lottie Belle Engha, of Louisville; Miss Elsie Dandridge, Miss Gertha Scott, Miss Virginia Gray; Miss Virginia Hoge, Miss Annie Mason, Miss Isabel South and Miss Hazel O'Rear.

The wedding will be solemnized in the early spring.

Malt Meade Decisions

OF COURT OF APPEALS CAUSE MUCH INTEREST

Several months ago Judge O'Hear of the court of appeals handed down an opinion holding that it was a violation of the local option laws to sell malt liquors in a "dry" territory, as malt liquors was an intoxicant whether it produced a feverish drunk or just a mild sort of intoxication, malt meade was constructed to be such and it was therefore against the law to sell in a prohibition territory.

The case was sent to the Court of Appeals from Bowling Green and created much comment throughout the State.

Upon this decision the grand jury now sitting at the present term of the Madison circuit court has notified all malt meade dealers in Richmond and Madison county last that they must either stop selling this article of drink or answer to indictments which would be forthcoming immediately. The grand jury held that the city council had no right to grant a license for selling malt meade near beer and other drinks of like character. Upon this warning the local dealers decided to quit.

Now the Court of Appeals has reversed itself, this time Judge Carroll has handed down an exhaustive opinion, which was given Wednesday and said in part:

"That liquor sold in a local option district, must be proven to be intoxicating. If it is such a liquor that its properties are not judicially known."

The above case was from Heattysville. A dealer named Toulsey was indicted on the charge of selling malt liquor contrary to the prohibition laws was fined and the case taken to the higher court. Of course under Judge Carroll's opinion it must be proven that a person became drunk from the effects of malt meade and this would be practically impossible. The decision just rendered is a direct reversal of the opinion handed down some time ago by Judge O'Hear, and in this city, which is greatly concerned over the question just at this time, there has been a wide comment.

Judge Benton who has always held that the malt liquor was an intoxicant, and under the statute it was unlawful to sell in a local option territory, was Halls Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Halls Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing her work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHILDS, 400, Toledo, O.
